Ohlo County Republican Ticket, The Republicans of the state are watching with deep interest to see what kind of legislative ticket the Republicans of Ohlo county will nominate next

A first class ticket in this county means four members of the house of delegates from this county, and this will make possible a Republican legislature. Tho selections should be made carefully, with regard alone to party and public interests, by no means with any regard to the ambition of any aspirant.

The nominations belong to the party. It is for the men who have been trusted with the party's confidence to dispose of them as they would discharge any other sacred trust. If the nominations be made in this spirit there is good reason to believe that the people will endorse them at the polls.

The prespect for a good ticket is good, and the idea that any ticket, no matter how inferior, can be elected, is bad. The duty of the convention is to take the four best men who can be induced to accept. This year high grade men will respond if the call be made no

Silly Season Politics.

An anti-Elkins campain opens simultaneously and with a good deal of assinine bitterness in two Pittsburgh newspapers. The Commercial Gazette of yes terday has a dispatch purporting to come from Wheeling and marked "special." The Post has another under a like date and not marked "special."

The Commercial Gacette quotes an "anonymous politiciau" as saying things about Mr. Elkins which might be expected to be said by that kind of politician. The Post quotes "one of the leading state Republican politicians," who will have to know more before he can lead far. Both articles bear the sinister impress of the same hand. They are intended to make trouble in the Republican ranks in West Virginia, and they will fail of their object.

The effort to show that Mr. Elkins is scheming for a place on the national ticket to silly in the extreme. He will de what every other loyal West Virginia Republican will do-exert his best efforts to carry the Republican cause to success in this state.

The Pittsburgh newspapers have been imposed upon. Theauther of their dispatches is a trickster or an ignoramous, possibly both. The Ropublicans of West Virginia have no grievance against Mr. Elkius, whom they hold in the highest eateem.

The easiest way to cotthenuch with the tariff bill would be to drop it. There is some reason to suspect that the re sponsible party lacks the patriotism to tion Mr. Singerly would hardly be asked and would scarcely consent to run first because there are thousands of Pennsylvania Democrats who do not believe in free trade, next because it is not likely that he desires to be governor. The idea of his nomination seems to be to keep up the Democratic oreanization as well as possible under a heavy stress of weather.

Mr. Singorly is about to become fumous as the worst defeated man who ever ran for governor of l'ennsylvania, but this will be no reflection on him personally. It will be merely the expression in figures of Pennsylvania's estimate of the Democratic party.

Nobady Got Away. The police of New York were not content with levying blackmail on the camblers and the keepers of dives. They raked the business men fore and aft. Some of these had use for more of the sidewalk than the law allows, and every man of them was assessed, $25 a year seeming to be the minimum.

The business men did wrong to pay for the privilege of violating the law even in this respect, but this does not excuse the police department, whose business is to enforce the law. Not even the bootblacks escaped. One of them testifies that under threat of being driven away from his stand he gave an officer $10 and was allowed to go on shining 'em up for a living.

It does not seem worth while to go further in this direction. The committee has an accumulation of testimony to sink the police department out of sight and Tammany with it. But there are fish to be caught who are not in the police department, and it will be strange if the committee do not land them.

II, after all, the people, sinning against light, permit the control of that great city to remain in the hands of its vicious elements, that will not be the fault of the committee nor of the fighting parson who took off the cover and let the people see what was going on in-

Ir may be that Croker is coming back to snawer the burning question. "Where did you get it?"

The Sugar-Coated Bill,

In the eyes of the New York World the senate tariff bill is "McKinleyism with the thinnest vencering of reform." Would it not be nearer the truth to say that the bill is sugar-coated with reform? Nor is it fair to say that the veneering is thin. The sugar on that bill is so thick that it would feed all tho flies in the universe for a million years. When the World speaks of "McKinloyism" it means, of course, protection. There is protection in the bill, but it is a very mean and lop-sided sort of protection, resulting in the main from jobbery. What business has anybady to put protection in a Demogratic tariff bill? There is no protection in the Democratic platform. That successful econonomic principle is mentioned in the Democratic platform only to denounce it as a fraud and a violation of the constitution.

Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson and all the Democratic Presidents down to Grover Cleveland lived and died under the impression that a protective tariff is constitutional, but they had not the overshadowing brain power of the modern apostles of Democracy. They lived too soon to know much.

The Gum-Chewing Girl.

She is everywhere, the gum-chewing girl; on the street, in the parlor, in the theatre, in the church, in the carriage, in the car. She is not to be suppressed by pleading or by intimidation. believes in her divine right to chew gum, and she will chew gum.

It is useless to tell her that the constant moving of the jaw and twisting of the mouth make a pretty girl homely and a homely girl hideous. If she believed you she would reform, but she knows better and there is no reform in

There is a difference in gum-chewing girls. There is the bold, haughty, defiant gum-chewer who desires all the world to understand distinctly that she chews gum and doesn't care a rap who knows it.

Then there is the modest, shrinking, fimid gum-chowing girl who would rather not be caught at it and thinks sho isn't. She grinds away with the satisfied air of one who achieves a proud triumph in her own artless way.

The gam-chewing girl is a study.

President Carnot's Successor. The chaice of a successor to President Carnot has fallen wisely on Casimir-Perior, president of the chamber of deputies, an experienced and able states man whose administration will be firm and patriotic.

Anarchism will gain nothing by the change. A more aggressive man than his unfortunate predecessor, and with Carnot's fate fresh in his mind, President Casimir-Perier will avail himself of all the methods within his reach to deal promptly and sternly with the wild boasts of society.

Unites the French government can hold down the infuriated people and prevent the mobbing of Italians, the assassination of President Carnot may result in a war between Italy and France. The sentiment of each country is bitterly hostile to the other.

Yesterday's Storm.

Wheeling got very little of yesterday's storm except that the electrical disturbauce burnt out telephone and street car connections. Just beyond the city limits to the eastward and from there on continuing in the same direction the rain fell in torrents. It came so fast that the baked earth could not take it in as it came, but the water will find its way to the roots of the growing crops and do them infinite good.

WE regret to notice in the esteemed New York Sun a disposition to blame Secretary Gresham with handing over the Democratic party to the Populists. The Democratic party has gone that way, but is it probable that Judge Gresham has hypnotized the whole party as he has Mr. Cleveland? Tush! tush!

sectof Dispatch to the Intelligences

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., June 27,-The congressional committee of the Second district met here a few days ago and decided to hold the convention in this city August 29. Of course the majority of Democrats in the district are not serof Democrats in the district are not seriously considering any one but William LAWiisoo, but it is a matter of fact that a very small attick could stir up a big lot of opposition to him even at his own home. The settlen of the Democratic convention in Barbour county a few days since in refusing to endorse him is an evidence that when put to a test his enemies are not afraid to "sweek out in meetin," and they are not going to join the precession just because the crowd is yelling for Wilson.

The INTELLICENCER correspondent has talked with a number of Democrats who are outspoken in their opposition to talked with a number of Domocrate who are outspoken in their opposition to him and say they will not vote for his nomination nor his election if nominated. Ruthven V. Morrow, editor of the Faracra Adeocate, an organ of the farmers alliance, published at Charles-Town, was in town yesterday to hear the speech of ex-Governor Wilson, and in conversation stated that he would not again support Wilson for Congress, because of his record on the silver question, and expressed a belief that 200 Pemecratic votes in Jederson would be bot again support Wilson for Congress, because of his record on the silver question, and expressed a belief that 200 Democratic votes in Jaderson would be cast against him if he is nominated. Heretofore Morrow has always supported him with his paper which wields a big influence among the farmers.

Ex-Governor Wilson is making speeches in this part of the state and his cause is receiving a grant deal of sympathy, especially from a host of olice seekers whom Senator Camden has not found places for; and there are alot of there fellows. It is a joke about the departments in Washington that when it is not known where a man is from he is put down as from Berkeley or Jederson county, West Virginia. There is a small army down there from this panhandle and twice as many more would like to go. The ex-governor has pathandle and twice as many more would like to go. The ex-governor has the hearty support of all of the disappointed, and anyhow he is popular here. Judge Daniel B. Lucas, who, upon a former occasion, demonstrated his ability to cope with Mr. Camden in a political contest, is Wison's right bower in the fight and is cure his man will pull through. through.

There is much speculation over here as to who will be the Republican nominee for Congress in this district. A dozen names are montioned in a casual way. Herkeley county has lets of timber, although some of it has been barked in former elections, and, of course, Berkeley would like to see one of her sons nominated. Mr. Wisner and Mr. Flick are not averse to trying it again, and Grant Pitzer has many friends who would like to see hing to to Congress. Aside from local favorites, George C. Sturgiss would probably receive the support of this pan handle, although there are some who think Mr. Elkins should consent to run. as to who will be the Republican nomi-

TERRIBLE DEATH

Of County Surveyor David J. Little, of Marion County-Killed by the Cars.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., June 27 .- Early this morning the dead body of David J. Little, county survoyor of this county, Little, county surveyor of this county, was found on what is called the "New York switch," just east of town, and it was taken charge of by Undertaker Musgrave. Just how he came by his death is not known. The body is not naugled or bruised to any extent. The principal injury seems to be about the back. Justice Fisher viewed the remains, but under the circumstances did not deem an inquest necessary. mains, but under the circumstances did not deem an inquest necessary, as it was plain that he was killed by being run over by the cars. The supposition is that he was passing along in the face of the storm last evening, and got under some empty cars standing on the switch for shelter. While under there the cars were moved by the switching engine, and he was caught by the brake and rolled over and over until dead. The rolled over and over until dead. The deceased resided in Grant district and decessed resided in Grant district and was about sixty years of age. His wife has been dead for some time, but he leaves three grown up children, two married daughters and one son. He was a most competent surveyor, and at the election in 1892 was elected surveyor for this county. His sad death is universally deplored.
